STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT

The students of Eelectronics and Communication Engineering participated in different events like seminars, Leadership Talks and Workshops.

Attending a seminar has numerous benefits, including improving communication skills, gaining expert knowledge, networking with others and renewing motivation and confidence.

Seminars can be a comfortable, open environment for practicing professional communication techniques. According to Learning Development with Plymouth University, seminars help you become a better listener, present your arguments and ideas clearly and be open to others' points of view. Group discussions and activities can also let you practice interpersonal skills, such as dealing with conflicting opinions among group members and working together to accomplish assignments or tasks.

Seminars give you intensive exposure to a topic through presentations and discussions led by multiple experts. Norwood Business Portal states that seminars are an ideal opportunity for people who want to study a topic in depth, but don't enjoy reading or have the time to take classes. By asking questions, taking detailed notes and being prepared for each day's events, you can leave a seminar with a wide range of knowledge in a specific field.
